

Lexington Tile

A New Era of Tile

The Lexington Tile is a premium slab with variegated colours integrated into the mix and feature a slate-like surface that will add refinement to any landscape. Lexington is manufactured using strict height tolerances insuring that slabs are level and consistent. Fine aggregates, and high cement content make up the facemix, resulting in an extremely durable surface and bold colours. Lexington is available in three striking colours, making it a great choice for any space it's placed in.
